Overview

Who owns a power station in Croatia?

All power stations in Croatia are owned and operated by Hrvatska elektroprivreda (HEP), the national power company. As of 2015, HEP operates 26 hydroelectric, 4 thermal and 3 cogenerating power plants with the total installed electrical power of 3.654 MW.

What is energy in Croatia?

Energy in Croatia describes energy and electricity production, consumption and import in Croatia. As of 2023, Croatia imported about 54.54% of the total energy consumed annually: 78.34% of its oil demand, 74.48% of its gas and 100% of its coal needs.

How does Croatia produce electricity?

Croatia produces electricity at: Croatia uses ½ of the capacities of the nuclear power plant Krško in Slovenia (Croatia is a co-owner of Krško). HEP is the major owner of the produced electricity in Croatia. Private energy producers mostly generate renewable energy sources, such as wind and solar power. Croatian phrase: toplinska energija.

What is Croatia's energy development strategy?

The energy development strategy of the Republic of Croatia until 2030 (and with some expectations for 2050) is a transition to renewable energy sources. Dependence on fossil fuels should be decreased, and domestic energy production and use of renewable sources should be increased.

Does Croatia need to import energy?

In reality, Croatia does not need to import energy as it has many natural sources that could be used instead, such as solar, wind, water, gas, and others. For this reason, Croatia should, in fact, export energy and not depend on other countries. Croatia depends on the import of gas, oil, and coal because its existing sources have been depleted.

How many petrol stations are in Croatia?

There are approximately 875 petrol stations in Croatia, and approximately 74 petrol stations are placed on Croatian motorways. Most of them are owned by INA, the Croatian oil company. Petrol stations in Croatia are owned by INA, Petrol, Crodux, Lukoil, Tifon, Shell, Adria Oil, and KTC. [Read: Ultimate guide to driving in Croatia]
