Overview

Transit Center at Manas (formerly Manas Air Base and unofficially Ganci Air Base) is a former U.S. military installation at Manas International Airport, near Bishkek, the capital of Kyrgyzstan. It was primarily operated by the U.S. Air Force. The primary unit at the base was the 376th Air Expeditionary Wing. On 3 June 2014 American troops vacated the base and it was handed over back to the Kyrgyzstan military. The installation was initially named after New York Fire Department Chief , who was killed in the 9/11 attacks. The all-ranks club/recreation center on base was known as "Pete's Place" in his honor.

The center opened on 16 December 2001. In December 2001, the 86th Contingency Response Group out of Wiesbaden in Germany arrived at Manas to open the airfield for military use as part of the International Security Assistance Force.

- On 26 September 2006, a USAF KC-135R, 63-8886, was damaged beyond economical repair when it was struck by a MiG-29 of Altyn Air, EX-85718, while stopped on a taxiway after landing at Manas Airbase. The aircraft was destroyed.
